LULLAS CHILDREN & FAMILY CENTRE

10th Annual Health Day!

Friday 28th June 2019

44 Edward Street, Shepparton

10AM - 2PM

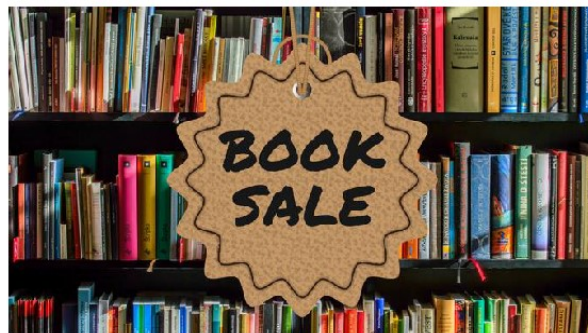

Lullas annual health day is a day where Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children can come and have their key health checks and/or immunisations done in a culturally safe environment. This day ensures that all indigenous children have an annual health check and if needing further advice, Lullas will guide and support families in the right direction according to the child's needs. This will make sure our children have the best start to primary school by this early intervention.

Traditional Welcoming Ceremony starting at 10am

For more information please contact Lullas on (03) 4800 5295

Hi everyone. This is Phil the school chaplain. (Some of the kids call me Happy Chappy!) I am loving getting to know your children, and also meeting some of you.

Our daughter's son, our first grandchild, is turning 1 this week. Watching this new family over the last year brings back to me how rewarding this new responsibility of being a parent can be...but also how "fulltime" the parenting job is!

I heard of a mum who had 17 kids. It was so crazy at times that she would stop in the middle of the kitchen and put a paper bag over her head. That was the sign for kids to be quiet and let her have just a few minutes to herself!!

I don't know if that would work for you! But make sure you do some little things to care for yourself too in the middle of the busy-ness. Go for a walk with a friend; find someone who can care for your kids to give you a chance to go for a coffee....or a movie?!!

Looking after yourself as well as looking after your relationship with your partner is vital for helping you best look after your children. Just sharing about the responsibility you have with someone who will listen and care will lighten your load.

And your children will thank you for it!!

Cheers

Phil

Careers Week

A couple of weeks ago, MPPS held our Careers Week, where the students were able to talk with visitors who came to tell the students about their jobs. We very much appreciate the support of these people in giving up some time in their incredibly busy weeks to help broaden our students' knowledge of opportunities that are open to all young people looking to enter an interesting career. We wish to thank the following visitors and their businesses and community groups;

Lucy Simkin – Pilot, at Secure Air Flight Training (Shepparton Airport)

Riana Fitzpatrick – Vet, at Shepparton Veterinary Clinic (Wanganui Rd Shepparton)

Carolyn Kamenjarin - Doctor and Director Intern Training, Emergency Department (GV Health)

Anne-Marie vanEyck - Medical Scientist at GV Health

Amelia - Firefighter with the CFA (Shepparton and Melb based)

Emma Dalton- Civil Engineer and General Manager of Jarvis Delahey Contractors (Shepparton)

Mark DePaola - Optometrist at Hill Eye Care (Shepparton)

The following people also helped arrange some of the visitors to our school;

Tess Canty, Manager Employment Services (GV Health)

Sarah and Amy Robinson - Industry Links - Greater Shepparton Lighthouse Project

It is great to be able to connect with the community in the education of our children. The students were able to ask questions and join in the conversation about the careers and were very engaged with all the visitors. Some great learning occurred.
